Among other boats that went out of commission, more or less damaged, at Manhasset Bay was Count Mankoyski's Ankle Deep Too, which turned turtle and sank for the second time during the Count's practice spins, and which didn't race for the cup at all, and ran only two courses in the mile trials before breaking down and retiring. Haby Speed Demon, last year's champion and still holder of all world's records from half a mile to thirty-five nautical miles, twisted her crankshaft, cracked a pair of cylinders and broke a connecting shaft. Other boats burned out bearings, cracked cylinders and suffered other injuries that put them out temporarily, but not permanently. Any one who goes in for motor boat racing needs to be a real sport.

DACKEY M'FARLAND has con sented to act as timer at the motor cycle races for members of the New York police force, which will be held at Brighton Beach race track this afternoon. It's said that it will take a real fighter to hold down that job, as the rivalry is running high and some of the old record holders intimate that they won't give up their titles without a bit of discussion. The timing will have to be absolutely on the level. There'll be twelve races.
